To the Class of 1959:

As you start your four years here at Yale, we would like to extend a cordial welcome along with our best wishes for a successful Yale career. We would also like to express our thanks for your prompt attention in returning the form sheets and photographs requested early in the summer. It is to your co-operation that the OLD CAMPUS owes its early publication.

In bringing out this book in time to greet you on your arrival, it has been our plan to present in as useful a form as possible data important to you concerning your fellow classmates. We hope that the small size of the book will prove convenient and useful in the first week's battle to remember names and faces.

We regret that an early press date made it impossible to include late arrivals in the regular section. To those inconvenienced we express our regrets; your biographies will be found, however, in a special section towards the end of the book.

Again may we express our best wishes at the start of your four years at Yale. If at any time we can be of assistance to you in any way, our offices are located in Hendrie Hall.

Sincerely,

THE EDITORS

QUOTES FROM

"All of the University Dining Halls are under direct University supervision, which is your best assurance of good service and quality."

"FRESHMAN WEEK . . . but for the most part, freshmen will find that they have time to themselves."

"The University is here to prepare men for the duties of living in a new and complicated age; if the traditions of Yale hold true its purpose will not fail."

"It should be kept in mind that the Old Campus rooms are served with Direct Current electricity."

The Shetland Jacket and Grey Flannel Stock are the traditional "uniforms" on Ivy League campuses. You might think it impossible to achieve any distinction in appearance with that combination. Yet there is a noticeable difference when a man wears a Fen-Felstein Jacket of genuine Shetland and stocks of fine British flannel. The soft, mellow character of handwoven and handloomed cloths cannot be equaled in machine-woven fabrics. For more than a quarter-century, that individual quality in suits and sport clothes has brought Yale men to the Fen-Felstein shops in New Haven and New York.

50,000 freshmen can't be wrong....

We figure that's just about the number of freshmen who've read the News since the first one was printed in 1878.

And we're still keeping undergraduates posted on the excitement that is Yale. Every morning. In every mailbox.

Sign on the dotted line now. We'll bill you (most considerately) after next month's allowance.

CO-OP FACTS

1. The Yale Co-op was founded in 1885 and is the second oldest College Co-operative in the United States.

2. The Co-op belongs to its members who consist of students, faculty, and alumni of Yale. Profit from the business is paid back to the members.

3. The distribution of profits among members is in proportion to each one's purchases and are called patronage refunds.

4. The Co-op Executive Committee sets the refund rate dependent upon the profit of the store.

5. The refund rate is 2½% more on cash purchases than on charge purchases.

6. Charge accounts are available upon application at the store. Statements are rendered monthly.

7. The Board of Directors consists of twenty-one members, including seven students, who serve without pay.

8. The General Manager is Charles L. Willoughby, a graduate of the Sheffield Scientific School in 1943.

9. The Co-op was incorporated under the laws of Connecticut in 1892 and is a separate Corporation from the Yale Corporation.

10. The store is the largest in the College area and offers the most complete selection from books to clothes for the college man.

11. All purchases, with the exception of cigarettes, are eligible for a patronage refund.

12. The purpose of the Co-op is to save money for its members. No matter what the selling price is, the ultimate cost to the member is the best cost obtainable by large buying power with carefully managed and minimized selling costs.

13. It is to the member's advantage to concentrate his buying at his store to obtain the maximum benefit from his patronage refund.

14. The annual membership fee is $1.00 to cover the fiscal year from July 1st to June 30th.
